Turning Point Restaurants Gets Brain Tumors Off Kids' Minds with Record "Great Food for a Great Cause" Fundraiser

Turning Point Restaurants today announced that it raised $28,000 for The Kortney Rose Foundation (KRF) at its fourth annual "Great Food for a Great Cause" event held on April 27 & 28, 2013. Turning Point Restaurants in Brick, Hoboken, Holmdel, Little Silver, Long Branch, Manalapan, Marlton, and Westfield all participated, raising a record amount for pediatric brain tumor research being conducted at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

Restaurant patrons who donated to KRF received Turning Point gift cards. This year's "Great Food for a Great Cause" event included two additional, and newly-opened locations in Brick and Marlton, which were the top two fundraisers, collectively contributing over $10,000.

"We are thrilled with the generosity of our patrons who made it possible for Turning Point Restaurants to almost double its donation to KRF this year," said Kirk Ruoff, owner of the Turning Point Restaurants, and one of KRF's largest corporate sponsors. "We have supported The Kortney Rose Foundation for the past six years because of its unwavering dedication to raising money for kids with brain tumors – the number one cancer cause of death in children 20 and under."

"The results from this year's Turning Point fundraiser were phenomenal," said KRF's Founder and President Kristen Gillette. "We are so thankful to the Ruoffs, and encouraged to see increasing community support to find better treatments and cures for the more than 4,200 children diagnosed annually with brain tumors."
